Charles M. Ziegler, state highcharles M. Ziegler, state nign-way commissioner, believes in doing things differently; well, at least, according to the traditional Lansing pattern.

He keeps a vigilant eye on de-tails and dollars, believing that both contribute materially to ef-ficiency of the state highway de-

For example. Whereas his Democratic predecessors built up the state highway department as a strong centralized agency with a large staff of employees, virtually state-wide in scope and hence of major political value at election time. missons.

Of course, perhaps unfortunately for his Democratic predecessors, these same county high-way commissions are largely Republican in politics. Ziegler has many friends in the county organizations, whereas Murray D. an Wagoner, for example did not have

Court review.

For many months Ziegler has been contesting the right of the civil service department, as represented by the commission and its director, Thomas J. Wilson, to have the final "say-so" on a sixmonth salary increases which the average state employee is eligible to receive, PROVIDING his services are found to be "satisfactory."

way commissioner is a bit old-fashioned at this state capital where more and more spending has been the rule, rather than the contrary, and where payrolls keep climbing in numbers and amount, administration in and administration out, regardless of the party in power.

A dollar is a dollar to Ziegler even in 1946. He rolls up his sleeves, wades into voluminous reports by the hours, and if he thinks he can save a few dollars and do so conscientiously, he proceeds to do it without delay. This zeal for economy and efficiency probably accounts for the Ziegler disposition to load himself with details, whereas other administrators are inclined to delegate details to their subordinates and to spend much of their time meeting the voters. If he feels that, an office girl has earned a merit increase in salary, he recommends it. But if eyesight is deficient and there if eyesight is deficient and there-fore she is less efficient than she was ten or twenty years ago, he stoutly declines to recommend a allowed to employees in my own department.

When we arrived for a brief visit, Zigler was considerably wrought up over a letter released by Wilson, state personnel director, alleging Ziegler with "neglect, failure and refusal" to recommend salary increases.
Ziegler's reply, as given in a letter of March 6, retorted: "I always arrowed at good employees."

Again proof of our observation that the present highway commissioner does not hew. to traditional political custom. Whereas many state officials encourage salary increases for their department employees, keeping an eye on the time when the political campaign rolls around and volunteer workers are needed, the doughty Ziegler sticks to his guns. If the employees "earn" the salary raises, he'll say so. Until then, a firm and decisive "No!" And that's that.

Service Again

Pullman service on the Michigan Central line from Detroit to Mackinaw City was resumed March 1. This service was discontinued last July when the CDT prohibited the use of sleeping cars on runs of less than 460 miles. This order was put into effect in order that more sleeping cars would be available for the military service.

The Pullmans leave Grayling on the north run from Detroit at 12.13 every night and arrive in Grayling on the north run from Detroit at 5:20 each morning.

trove of information for the geologist.

To the visitor approaching by Stan boat, Mackinac Island seems to rise in gigantic steps from the lake shore to Fort Holmes, which is perched on the highest point of the island. Each of these terraces of steps tells a story to the geologist. In fact, the island has been the key to deciphering the story of the Great Lakes.

Interesting, details of the geologic history revealed by the scenic curiosities of the island are told in "Prehistoric Mackinac. Island" a book just published which was written by George M. Stanley, associate professor of geology at the University of Michigan. The volume is based on a survey made by Prof. Stanley for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

"The story of the rock upon which Mackinac Island is built gees back millions of years." Lowers of the wond one half centuries in which the Indian and white men have inhabited Mackinac Island are brief caught the disease and gave it to the others. Living close to-gether, using dishes that had not been sterilized, it was only too easy for father to transmit the disease to son, for brother to pass it on to sister.

The veteran's education was not neglected, as approximately twelve million dollars was appropriated to Michigan colleges and universities to assist them in constructing necessary class rooms and other facilities to enable more adequate teaching.

Two bills carrying no appropriations were, however, very important to veterans. These bills removed all restrictions which prohibited Michigan state banks from participating fully in veteran's loans under the GI bill. One of the most important steps taken by the legislature

No One Inherits TB

Fear is responsible for the loss of many a life. Sometimes it is fear of knowing the truth which prevents people from seeking medical advice when they first become ill. Sometimes it is a haunting fear that a disease has been inherited and there is nothing that can be done about it. Both kinds of fear have caused needless suffering to victims of suberculosis, yet fear never cured a person of tuberculosis, whereas knowledge points the way to remately 55,000 persons in this country a year. But tuberculosis is not inherited and it can be cured. There will be fewer deaths, from the disease when people cease to be afraid to learn the truth.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when so little was known about tuberculosis that there was justification for excessive fear of the disease. Today, however, we know that tuberculosis can be cured, particularly if it is detected in its early stages. We know, too, that it can be found in the early stage through chest X-ray examinations.

Furthermore, we know that tuberculosis is caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus and that this germ is transmitted from one person to another. People are not born with tuberculosis. They catch it from some one who has the disease.

The myth that tuberculosis is inherited probably arose from the fact that often different members of the same family had the disease. Unfortunately, it is true that frequently a whole family will contract the disease. This does not prove, however, that they were born with it. The fact is that one member of the family

Today is March 21, 1946—the first day of Spring in the Eastern time zone.

And although the weather will turn milder as the Spring season advances into Summer, we don't know whether other conditions will improve.

The labor situation, both to supply and cost, isn't so discouraging, however. "I foresee no serious difficuty in 1946," he said. As for funds, the department anticipates having about $26,000,000 for 1946 highway work under federal aid. # FAIR PLAY OUR POLICY ON NEW CAR DELIVERIES!

N COOPERATION with the Ford Motor Company, we are making every effort to give earliest possible delivery of new cars to our patrons, according to the fairest method we have been able to devise. • During the current shortage, when there are not enough new cars for all who want them, we are filling orders for new cars on the basis of first come first served. There are two important exceptions to this rule:

> We are definitely reserving a substantial percentage of our cars to supply those who have served in the armed forces. 31.2 percent of all Ford cars delivered to date in this area have gone to veterans. This we feel is simple justice and conforms with public interest and fair play.

2. If emergency need for a new car is a factor, we will, in the public interest determine priority according to the now abolished but publicly accepted OPA priority lists.

• We believe these delivery policies are in your interest. We will use every care to see that the procedure works fairly and that exceptions to the rule of first orders delivered first are made only in genuinely deserving cases.

Both in the matter of increasing production and speeding delivery, the Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to get your new car in your hands promptly and early. We want to assure you that the '46 Ford is out in front in everything and is well worth waiting for.

1 CUBIC INCH OF "BIBLICAL WHEAT" GROWS TO WORLD BLANKET BY 13th YEAR

Perry Hayden, Tecumseh, Mich., Quaker miller, standing in ront of the first little plat of wheat grown from the cubic inch of rain shown in the insert, with the huge increase in the background. A 10% tithe for the church was deducted each year, and the entire balance replanted. The average annual increase of the "Tithed Wheat" far exceeded the state average of Michigan.

Inspired by a sermon in his local Quaker church in 1940 Perry Hayden, a Quaker miller of Tecumsch, Mich., set out to illustrate some of the Bible lessons on "Titling," "Rebirth" and "Returns on what we sow."

Hayden started with a cubic inch of wheat, which he planted in the above patch of 4 by 8 ft.

A year later he harvested the patch; deducted 10% of the crop as a tithe to the church, and planted the balance again, the following year. The second, third and fourth years he again deducted the tithe and replanted the entire balance of each copp.

Last year's crop, which was the fifth, had grown from the sixth and final year of the demonstration required 2,500 acres of land. If continued for nine years it would require all of the land in W. Virginia, and in ten years it would require all of the land in the year would cover the whole globe—all starting with a cubic inch, of wheat, a little faith and God' promises.

Land for the first five years, was furnished by Henry Ford, but least all's planting was so large that no single tract of land in Michigan could handle it, so the seed was parceled out to about try, yho have planted the genu-stration.

It's a funny thing. Now that the war's over, there's a lot of head-shaking in our town. People saying: "What's the younger generation coming to?" "How can we end these strikes?" "The country's going to the dogs!" "There ought to be a law!" etc.

But when the younger genera-tion was walloping the Axis "supermen"—and labor was doing the most colossal job in history—you never heard a murmur. But now that we're back to our traditional life of personal liberty, just see how the heads begin to shake again I guess there'll always be headshakers—folks who feel "there ought to be a law"—who believe that the best form of regulation is

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County Crawford. No. 189. Crawford. No. 189.
In the matter of the petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed three descriptions. Morrison, Michigan,

In the matter of the petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filling the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Graying in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 9th day of April. A. D. 1946, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interest and charges, or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Crawford, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be passed over for the

STATE OF MICHIGAN. In the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

Crawford, in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of John D.
Morrison, Auditor General of the State.
State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.
To the Circuit Court for the County of
Crawford, in Chancery:
John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes, which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said County which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last affove mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total empiric of the control of t scription for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four percent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned:

cordence with the provisions of the act in sabove mentioned;
4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land are saint which they were assessed and are require, as provided by the Toregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof. Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.
Dated: January 28, 1948.
JOHN D. MORRISON, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Nell rode slowly forward, hating to disturb them. They rose to let her through, fluttered and circled shove her, then lit again behind her and continued swinging on the grass Reaching the bank of Deer Creek.

Gypsy was belly deep in dried brown grass. She grunted softly and turned her head toward the water. Nell sat relaxed in the saddle while the mare waded into the stream, her feet sinking deep in the soft gravel, and the fresh and delicious smell of water and damp earth and autumn leaves watted up and made Nell wonder why, now, everything that was sweet sent a sharp pain through her heart. Long wheezing sucks came from Gypsy. Two magples were quarreling in a tree overhead. And a little way off there was frantic yipping from Kim as he chased a rabbit.

Nell lifted Gypsy's head, turned her, and the mare scrambled up the bank, scattering water from her hoofs and her mouth. And as she resumed her canter, Nell resumed the argument. Rob had been in Laramie about two weeks and hadn't let her know. Why? Didn't he wan to see her?

The dogs had vanished complete ly. Often they started out on a ride with her, were led off by rabbits or exciting scents and disappeared She wouldn't see them again unti she got home and found them pant ing on the terrace.

At the thought that Rob did not want to come home her mind spun around to his point of view. How was he thinking and feeling? Was he was he thinking and recultiff was he suffering too? Oh, I hope so, I hope so, for if he loves me he couldn't help it. But does he? He could come to me, but I couldn't go to him. Or could I? She thought of herself driving down to Laramie, going about hunting for her husband—No. Not She tingled with shame. She had to wait here, but how long? Yes-how long? Until he decided to come

It was that which prevented her from eating, for it came often just as she had prepared food for herself and sat down and looked at it.

She wondered at those mysterious physical activities, probably governed by the endocrine glands which are the reactions to violen emotions. What, really, was going on in her body? Was it a sort of shell shock? Was it destroying her health and strength and youth? She could not bear to look at the face that peered back at her from the Nell drew rein and watched the chase, quieted by a feeling of fatal-ism. What chance did the rabbit ism. What chance did the rabbit have? It was like her mind—doubling and dodging, trying to find a hole in which to hide, or a path of escape, but cornered every time.

The rabbit doubled on its tracks and Kim, who always went too tast, shot past it. The rabbit was struggling to reach the rocks. No doubt-he had a safe hideaway underneath them. Would he make it? Kim was almost upon him, and again the rab bit—turned and dodged, and again Kim shot past and had to brake and turn and in those few seconds the rabbit reached his haven. But ah— Chaps was there too. No blame to them, thought Nell, as she galloped toward them and called to them to stand back. Wagging their tails proudly they stood off and looked up at her. They were panting, and their long red tongues hung, dripping, out of the sides of their mouths. Nell picked up the big jack-i must have weighed six pounds-and asked Gypsy's consent to hang it on the saddle. Gypsy pricked her ears and drew in her chin, snorting Nell offered it to her to smell. Gyps; sniffed the rabbit gingerly, and after that, permitted Nell-to fasten it to the saddle.

The dogs watched her, well satisfied. They knew that later, when Gus skinned it, they would get their

The hunt and the killing of the rabbit had added to Nell's depression. She could not bear to so home. If she could ride until it was completely dark, and there would be nothing to do but pull off her clothes until she was so tired that she would be sure to sleep!

Occasionally she glanced upward to see if there were any stars, or if the moon was rising, but the sky was a solid gray lid, not low or stormy, but withdrawn and bitterly cold. It made her shiver. If there was beauty and life in Nature, where had it gone? When the skies were like this they put a blight on the world, and on the human soul.

They galloped along in the gather-ing darkness, the dead rabbit thudding against the mare's side.

Nell reached the stables from the south pasture. She had expected Gus to be watching for her, but no one was there, not even the dogs. She fed Gypsy, unsaddled her and turned her out. She hung the dead rabbit in the meat house and walked slowly and unwillingly down through the gorge. Physically, she was near collapse, and she walked slowly and unsteadily.

As she approached the house she suddenly stopped walking. Lights shone in all the windows and a row of cars stood behind it.

It was one of those uproarious gatherings which occur when town people descend on their country friends with all the "makings." The house was bursting with food and drink, lights and roarise fires and human noise and movement. Rob had brought T-bone steaks. toes were already baking and Gene-vieve Scott was just putting the fin-ishing touches to two big pumpkin

When Nell stood in the kitchen door, dazed and almost unbelieving, and exclaimed, "Rob!" she was promptly enveloped in a rowdy beat hug by her husband, and thereafter by Rodney Scott and Charley Sar by Rochey Scott and Charley Sar-gent. She was told to sit down and rest herself and let her guests do the cooking and set the table. Mor-ton Harris, brought her an old-fashloned cocktail. There would be nothing for Nell to do, they assured her but make her famous dressing for the lettuce.

"And the mustard and coffee sauce for the steaks!" exclaimed

Gus was concecting the potent Gus was concocting the potent Swedish punch called glogg.

"And I hope," said Bess Gifford, "that there'll be room in the oven for these biscuits."

"And we'll be ready, to eat at about eight-thirty," said Rob, "and until then there's nothing to do but delay up and enlow yourself!"

drink up and enjoy yourself!" Nell ran upstairs to her room. Rob is home. He kissed me. He is here! This very night they would be together in this room and all would be explained and forgotten. That dreadful ioneliness-that desolation —it was all over. An easy breathing lifted her breast and it was new and pleasant and free and a great change—as if, all these weeks, a painful thong had bound her lungs. She stood on the threshold of their bedroom, wondering if he had been there already, if there would be some sign, his coat thrown across the pillow, or his boots standing argumentatively in the middle of the floor. Instead, she saw the bed piled high with feminine wraps. Of course. The girls, and their things. Well—it would all wait.

Moving lightly and excitedly, she brushed and groomed and freshened herself and ran downstairs again.

Rob offered her another cocktail "How's about another?" he asked jovially. "You've got to catch up to the rest of us, you know."

"Have you been here long?" she asked, raising her eyes to his as she took the glass. It was like speaking to a man she hardly knew but was desperately in love with.
His eyes met hers for a split second and then fell to the glass he was handing her. "Oh, a couple of hours!" he said. "And I'm watching you make your saind dressing!" sain Morton Harris. "I've got all the things out on this table for you!"

The radio was roaring. Bess Gif-ford and Charley Sargent were danc-ing in the middle of the living room. It seemed to Nell she was on the surface of a river of sound and sensation, that lifted her higher and higher. Her body was warm and quick and pliant, the pupils of her eyes dilated, her laugh rippled. She sat at the head of the table and carved the steaks, putting a lump of butter and mustard in each and then spooning the gravy over the meat until all was blended. When, now and then, the memory of the afternoon-of all the days gone before—came back to her, she put her fork down and leaned her head back and wondered if she was drunk—so unbearably sweet was the pang of the present laid against the desolation of the past. It was over. He was here. He had kissed her. He would kiss her again tonight. "Maybe you'll tell us, Nell!"

shrieked Bess Gifford from the other end of the table. "Why is it that as when they can put their heads together and talk about how much noney they lose on horses?

"Lose on horses?" said Neil doubtuily, her eyes going to Rob's. "Don't believe him," said Rodney Scott. "Come on now, Rob-give us the low-down... You made a mint on this sale, didn't you?"

"You don't have to ask him," shouted Stacy Gifford. "Take a look at him! See that among grint He busted the bank!"

"And in the lap of Spring, your Winter garments fling."
—Omar Khayyam.

Looks like Spring . . . but didn't they warn Caesar to "Beware the Ides of March?"

Looks like G., H. S. will have good ball team this Spring. However, the ice on the lakes i

However, the ice on the lakes is melting as the warming sun gets back on the job. "Ernie Borchers is repairing and painting his cances... The shacks are off the ice... The first robin and wife have been seen... Some folks are readying their garden plots... And a feeling of extreme lassitude seems to pervade the atmosphere... so, Spring must be here. (Though we knock on wood as we say this.)

They lived in this home for more than 50 years, and their two boys, Lauren A. and Harold, were born there. Lauren died in 1927, a few years before his parents came to Grayling to make their home with Harold and family. Mrs. Jarmin passed away here in Next Winter, Shantytown on School Section Lake will put on style. It will have a (more or less) municipal government. Doc Cook has consented to run for mayor of Shantytown. We put forth the following ticket: For mayor, Doc Cook; for chief of police, Tommy Thompson; for fire chief, Slips Edwards; for council (or counsel), the whole shebang. Other officers to be put up when the shanties go on the ice.

Only a little over a month now till the curtain rises on the trout season of 1946. It's time now to start readying your rods, tackle and replenish your suppy of flies and leaders.

Bit by bit, article by article, post-war fishing tackle and equipment are coming back on the market, including waders and boats. And you can bet the demand is heavy.

Those who took in the Sportsman's Show in Detroit say it had a lot of new sports equipment, including aluminum canoes, plastic and plywood boats, and the new plastic impregnated bamboo rods. Boats shown ranged in price from around $20 to $4,500 so Slips Edwards tells us. However, he considers the old reliable canvass canoe the best yet.
